DETAILED ACTION

1. In claims 15 and 19, "the vehicle head" lacks antecedent basis.
2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the mechanically premounted and electrically pretested assembly with corresponding components, as recited in claims 4, 9-11 and 18; and the console, as recited in claims 8 and 12-14, must be shown or the features must be canceled from the claims. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3, 6, 7, 15-17 and 19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hachet (US 6,158,356).

Hachet discloses a rail vehicle having all the features as recited in the instant claims including vehicle head 2, passenger compartment 3, and shock absorbing elements 9.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claims 4, 9-11 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hachet (US 6,158,356).

Regarding the instant claimed mechanically premounted assembly and electrically pretested assembly, it is the examiner's position that mechanical and electrical assemblies are common to generally all railway cabs (Official Notice is taken), and it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide such common mechanical and electrical assemblies on the railway cab of Hachet for performing the expected functions thereof. Regarding the assemblies being premounted and pretested, note that such limitations are merely directed to method steps, which are not considered to be patentably significant in apparatus claims because the resulting apparatus from such method steps would not be significantly different from the same apparatus that is made from different method steps. On the other hand, it would have been obvious to premount and pretest the components on the cab of Hachet as a matter of conveniences during an assembling process.

7. Claims 5, 8, 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hachet (US 6,158,356) in view of Saint-Martin (US 2,012,260).

Regarding the instant claimed outer door, consider outer door 30 of Saint-Martin. In view of Saint-Martin, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide an outer door, similar to that of Saint-Martin, on the cab of Hachet so as to allow easy access for the driver.

Regarding the instant claimed seat, consider seat 28 of Saint-Martin. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a seat similar to that of Saint-Martin in the cab of Hachet for a driver to seat.

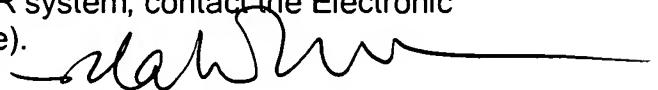

Regarding the instant claimed console, it is well known if not inherent in a railcar cab, and it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a control console in the cab of Hachet for the driver to control the vehicle.

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Applicant should further consider the structures of Hartmann, Payne, Ogihara, McGettigan, and Way.
